The McCormack Recital.

Above anything else in social importance this week was the matinee concert given by Mr. John McCormack on Tuesday afternoon at the Opera House. Hardly twenty-four hours notice was given to the society world that the famous Irish tenor had consented to sing on that day, thus consuming three of his few precious hours in Hawaii. But it was more than enough engagements for bridge parties, teas and luncheons were thrown to the winds, the far from disconcerted herself taking advantage of the many sudden regrets to postpone her affair and attend the concert. There was not an empty seat in the Opera House—in fact many disappointed persons were turned away from the box office with the sad words "Sold Out." There were many parties gotten up for the occasion, Mrs. Charles Dickey being hostess at one, Mrs. George Beckley, Mrs. P. Glassford of Schofield Barracks and many other prominent society people entertaining in this manner. Among those noticed at the concert were Mrs. Shingle, Mr. and Mrs. C. Cooke, Miss Alice Cooke, Mr. and Mrs. George McDowney, Mr. F. M. Hatch, Miss Harriet Hatch, Miss Hewings, Mr. Reginald Carter, Mr. Robert Purvis, Miss Beatrice Castle, Mrs. E. M. Watson, Mrs. A. G. Hodgins, Mrs. F. M. Swanzy, Miss Nora Swanzy, Miss Rosamund Swanzy, Mrs. George Beckley, Mrs. Robert Shingle, Mrs. Shingle, Sr., Mrs. Fritz Henshaw, Mr. Ernest Parker, Lieut. C. R. Baxter, Lieut. Freeman Bowley, Lieut. Green, Mrs. P. Glassford, Mrs. Benjamin Watkins, Mrs. Fred Waterhouse, Miss Margaret Waterhouse, Miss Keoloha Waterhouse, Mrs. F. A. Schaefer, Mrs. Arthur Wall, Miss Catherine Wall, Miss Katherine Winans, Miss Hortense Short, Mrs. Clifford Jones, Miss Marjory Freeth, Mrs. Sara Newcomb, Mr. Edward Newcomb, Mrs. Wallace R. Farrington, Mrs. A. Hooking, Mrs. Charles L'Hommendieu, Mrs. Hamilton Agee, Mrs. Charles Beckus, Miss Myra Angus, Mrs. Frank Clegburn, Miss Deane, Miss Ethel Whitson, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. M. Robertson, Mrs. Carlos Long, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hall, Mrs. C. B. Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. C. Dickey, Mr. and Mrs. James Dole, Mrs. Frank Thompson, Miss Mary von Holt, Dr. and Mrs. James Judd, Mrs. A. W. T. Bottomley, Miss Bottomley and many others.

Hui Nalu Folies.

As the opening date of the Hui Nalu's debut in the theatrical world draws nearer the rehearsals are running smoother. The enthusiasm and spirit shown by both the members and the young ladies assisting is noted with a deal of satisfaction by those in charge. The opening act promises to be a distinct novelty. It is staged in front of the Moana bath house, on the spot where the club, which is famous the world over because of the swimming records of Duke Kahanamoku and his team mate, was formed less than three years ago. During the action of this scene the boys are shown in their natural poses, some in bathing suits, some in street clothes, while plenty of Hawaiian music will be heard from "Duke" Miller and his quartet club, and the three Evans brothers are down for a number on their guitars. Tommy using the ever sweet sounding steel method. Special scenery is being made for this act, and a number of novelties are promised, which would do credit to professional talent. Ernest Kaul and his double quintet will have ample opportunity to display his talents. R. K. Bonine has taken some new surfing pictures of the Hui Nalu boys "at home" and these will be shown following the opening act. The last number will be a beautiful cabaret scene, during which 12 well-known young ladies and as many boys, with Mr. Kaul as the soloist will sing and dance several selections. Duke and Ned Steel will introduce some new dances as a specialty in this scene, and Bob Kaul's rich baritone will be heard accompanied by the above chorus. The close of the act will be the radium dance, for which special lighting effects have been imported. The exchange tickets in the hands of the members and the Hawaiian News Company are almost all sold, the public sale of coupon tickets commences Thursday, February 5, at the office of the above concern.

The object of this show is to raise funds for the building of a club house and from all present indications it won't be many weeks before that building is actually under way.

Captain and Mrs. Stayton's Dinner.

Miss Lydia McStocker and Dr. Arnett P. Matthews, whose engagement was announced last month, were the guests of honor at a large and very attractive dinner given on Wednesday by Captain and Mrs. Norris Stayton at their quarters at Fort de Russy. A large basket of pink roses caught with misty white tulle occupied the center of the table. Surrounding this were pink shaded candlesticks, while suspended from a large shade above were merry faced Cupids wearing a sash of pink ribbon. Japanese ladies carrying pink parasols were used as place cards. Each guest was given a dainty white shoe filled with rice, which they later peeped at the guests of honor. After dinner the evening was devoted to bridge. Among those present were Miss Lydia McStocker, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Brown, Miss Julie McStocker, Mr. and Mrs. F. B. McStocker, Miss Myrtle McDonald, Major F. W. Coe, Dr. A. P. Matthews, Dr. Seiber and the host and hostess.

Miss Marshall's Rag Party.

A very jolly affair of the week was the rag party given on Wednesday by Miss May Marshall at her home on Thurston avenue. All of the new dances were tried with varying degrees of success, many of the less nimble resorting to billiards between whistles. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds McGrew, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. M. Robertson, Misses Ruth Soper, Alice Hoogs, Thelma Murphy, Violet Atherton, Laura Atherton, Marjory Gilman, Dorothy Guild, Myrtle Schuman, Almond, Mary O'Brien, Jessie Kennedy, Rennie Catton, Nellie Marshall, Messrs. Percy Nottage, Guy Buttolph, Sidney Carr, John Macaulay, Ernest Podmore, Watson Ballentyne, Stanley Kennedy, Carl Hardigg, Will Hoogs, Walter Marshall, Alan Marshall, Richard Catton, John Watt, George Marshall and the hostess.

Miss von Holt's Luncheon.

Mrs. Joy Whitman, wife of Dr. Whitman of the army, was motif for one of the prettiest affairs of the week when Miss Mary von Holt entertained at luncheon on Wednesday. The table was charmingly decorated with violets and sweetpeas, interspersed with maiden anthurus. Place cards, bonbons and favors harmonized in color. After luncheon the hours were whiled away with music. Those invited to meet Mrs. Whitman were Mrs. Will Whitney, Mrs. E. V. Sutton, Mrs. Alfred Castle, Mrs. Sherwood Lowrey, Mrs. Sam Wilder, Mrs. Herbert Dowsett, Miss Nora Sturgeon, Miss Nora Swanzy, Miss Beatrice Castle, Miss Bertha Kopke, Miss Esther Kopke and Mrs. H. von Holt.

Mrs. Church's Luncheon.

Mrs. Gaylord Church entertained most charmingly at luncheon on Thursday in honor of her mother, Mrs. Rist, and Mrs. John Graham, the daughter of Admiral and Mrs. C. B. T. Moore. The table was a bower of pink and white roses, the idea being carried out not only in the centerpiece but in the place cards and favors as well. Covers were laid for Mrs. Rist, Mrs. John Graham, Mrs. C. B. T. Moore, Mrs. Sam Gordon, Mrs. Richard Cutts, Mrs. A. Lewis, Mrs. J. A. Furer, Mrs. Harry Green and the hostess, Mrs. Gaylord Church.

Dance at the Moana.

The dance given by the management of the Moana hotel on Thursday proved a most delightful affair. It was considered a great opportunity by many, not only to enjoy the splendid music of Kaul's orchestra, but to learn the new dances as well. Mrs. Mary Gunn had the direction of the affair which in itself was a big factor toward the success of the dancing. A hundred or more of Honolulu society folk were present. This is the first of a series of dances to be given on alternating Thursdays at the Moana and Young.

Dr. and Mrs. Cooper's Dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Maud of Monterey were the guests of honor at a charmingly appointed dinner given by Dr. and Mrs. C. B. Cooper on Thursday at their home on Hackfield St. A beautiful bowl of sweet peas and ferns occupied the center of the table, other favors blending in color. Covers were laid for 10.

Auxiliary Meeting.

An event that is being greatly anticipated by church workers and which will be enjoyed from both social and educational standpoints, is the meeting of the district Woman's Auxiliary at St. Clement's parish house on Monday, the second of February at half past two. The Rev. Arthur Gray, the educational secretary of the board of missions, who is passing through that day on the Chio Maru will give an address. In addition, Mrs. Herman von Holt will read her paper on the request of those who were unable to hear it the first time. A large attendance is expected.

Evening at the Moana.

A number of society folk of town dined at the Moana, on Wednesday night for the purpose of hearing the Filipino orchestra which played during dinner and afterwards for a short concert. The Filipinos are as renowned as the Hawaiians for their musical ability and the introduction of the Wednesday night concert, in addition to the program given on Sunday evenings by a Hawaiian quintet is bound to prove a great drawing card not to be outdone by the Moana, the Young Hotel has secured Miltner's orchestra to play on Saturday evenings. As a result, both the cafe and rathskellar

Mrs. Hayseiden's Luncheon.

One of the most charming affairs of the week was the luncheon on Thursday given by Mrs. Harold Hayseiden at her pretty home at Wai-kihi. Miss Muriel Robbins of Vancouver was the motif of the occasion. The table was daintily decorated in shades of blue and pink lavender, the color scheme being carried out with hydrangeas and pale pink carnations. Little pink crested cards were used to mark the places. After luncheon the afternoon was devoted to music and later, when the sun's rays had abated their fierceness somewhat, to a refreshing swim in the salt ocean. Among Mrs. Hayseiden's guests were Miss Muriel Robbins, Miss Marjory Carr, Mrs. William Ault, Miss Merced Walton, Miss Rollins, Miss Florence Hoffman, Mrs. George Tackabury, Miss Genevieve Neustadt, Mrs. Walter Kendall, Mrs. Arthur Bump, Miss Sybil Robertson, Mrs. S. Barnes and Mrs. George Kluegel.

Mr. and Mrs. Horner's Dinner.

A very delightful dinner was given on Thursday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Horner at their home on Nuanu avenue. The table was most attractive with its centerpiece of gay colored nasturtiums and maiden hair ferns. Covers were laid for Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Hodgins, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. James McCandless, Miss Keoloha Kekela, Mr. Albert Horner, Jr. and the host and hostess.

Col. and Mrs. Appel's Supper.

Miss Harriet Ballance who sailed on the Siberia for Japan, this week was the motif for a farewell supper given by Col. and Mrs. D. M. Appel on Tuesday at their home in Liliha. Other guests were Major and Mrs. E. V. Smith, Capt. and Mrs. Charles Lincoln, Lieut. and Mrs. F. P. Jackson, Mrs. Richard Cutts and Major Herbert Williams.

Miss Effinger a "500" Hostess.

Miss Louise Effinger is the hostess at a "500" party this afternoon at her home, Manoa Heights. Among the guests are Misses Florence Ballou, Dorothy Peterson, Dorothy Hoogs, Cornelia McCann, Violet Austin, Maud Ballentyne, Genevieve Taggard, Gardie Everton, Laura Cassidy, Genevieve Young, Florence Davis, Elizabeth Rosenbaum, Bernice Halstead, Jeannette Sharp, Doris Noble, Ruth Keough, Louise Churchill, Grace Buttolph, Kate Singlehurst and Clemence Gifford.

Mrs. Hobdy's Luncheon.

Mrs. K. W. La Pollette, who is visiting her sister, Mrs. W. C. Hobdy for a few days, was the motif for a large and very beautiful luncheon given by the latter on Wednesday at the Country Club. The guests were seated at three long tables decorated in turn with rainbow tinted Transvaal daisies, pale pink carnations and American Beauty roses. Each guest found her table by means of a flower presented to her before entering the dining room, which matched the blossoms at her place. The place cards were daintily hand-painted baskets of flowers matching the centerpiece. The Country Club was beautifully decorated with double red poinsettia, a variety that is rarely seen in Honolulu. Covers were laid for 30.

Mrs. Peck's Bridge.

Mrs. Sam Peck entertained charmingly at cards yesterday afternoon at her home in Kaimuki. Auction was, of course, the game played, and a number of interesting rubbers were had. Delicious "costs" were served later in the afternoon. Among those present were Mrs. Albert Horner, Mrs. Charles Frazier, Mrs. Harry Wilder, Mrs. Philys Peck, Mrs. George Kluegal, Miss Stella Peck, Mrs. Z. K. Myers, Mrs. Gussie Schmidt, Mrs. Arthur Davidson, Mrs. Henry Winckley, Mrs. O. E. Wall, Mrs. Charles L'Hommendieu, Mrs. W. F. Gaynor, Mrs. F. B. McStocker, Mrs. Frank Applin, Mrs. Nelson Lansing and Mrs. J. H. Lambergson.

'FEBRUARY'

The Meaning of the Word

We don't want our friends to think us pædantic; we certainly are not running a kindergarten, but the name of the month interests us. We've just found out that it is derived from the Latin word "februo," "to purify by sacrifice."

That applies so aptly to our stock and our intentions that we can't help mentioning it.

We propose to have a great
